

Dear All,

It's been fantastic to see you at our recent in-person events, so thank you to all of those who attended – your presence was tremendously appreciated and we very much look forward to seeing you again soon.

Most recently, we have published two articles on subjects that we think are relevant and of interest to you. The first is a piece written by Anne Todd, a Partner in the Firm's Commercial team, entitled The New EU-US Data Privacy Framework comes into effect – does it apply in the UK? In the article, Anne discusses the new Framework, which came into effect recently, and the implications for UK businesses.

does it apply in the UK?

The second article is written by Jonathan Kitchin, Head of our Commercial and Regulatory Disputes team. Jonathan's article, entitled ESG Disputes and Regulatory Risks: What do business and General Counsel need to know? provides a snapshot of the wide variety of sources of ESG related commercial disputes or regulatory investigations under English law and how they interrelate to each other. It considers existing legislation, the role of regulators, carbon emissions and financial disclosure requirements, trends in ESG related litigation, and where the boundaries of the law are most likely to be tested.

General Counsel need to know?

Please feel free to share both articles with your colleagues and get in touch if you have any questions regarding either subject.

We will also be sending out a very short questionnaire soon to find out what type of forum and events you would like to participate in, both in person and virtually. It would be great to receive your views so that we can tailor our events to the needs of the group and what you think adds the most value.

Many thanks again and please don't hesitate to get in contact with us if you have any questions or would like further information.
